

RODRIGUEZ IS A REBEL THE GRAND JURY

Man Who Is Accused of Robbing Cummings, Was Scrubman at Harvey.

FAMILY SAID HE WAS IN DIAZ ARMY

Pedro Rodriguez, who was arrested Wednesday morning at the Silberberg jewelry store, and who was charged with theft over $50 and theft from the person, was bound over Saturday morning to the grand jury on both charges. Bond at $750 in each case was set by Justice E. B. McClintock, before whom the preliminary was held. The examination was conducted by county attorney Bridges.

X. B. Cummings, who is attending the Juarez races, is the prosecuting witness. Rodriguez was arrested had $1750 and jewels valued at $11,000. The jewels have been identified by Cummings.

Rodriguez appeared at the hearing without an attorney, but he has evidently been advised by one, as he refused to make a statement. He has been employed at the Harvey house at the station for the past 18 months. He said that manager Morrow of the Harvey house would be asked to make his bond.

At the Harvey house, it was stated Mr. Morrow seriously ill as a result of an attack of rheumatism and yellow jaundice, and could not be interviewed. Mrs. Morrow stated that it was highly improbable that her husband would become surety for Rodriguez.

Mrs. Morrow also said that Rodriguez had been employed at the Harvey house for the past two years as night scrub man and that no complaints had ever been registered against him. He quit work four nights ago and Mrs. Morrow states that Mr. Morrow was informed by Rodriguez's relatives that he had been drafted into the Mexican army.

The banker's story.

W. E. O'Brien, being duly sworn, testified as follows:

"I am teller at the Rio Grande Valley Bank and Trust company, in El Paso, Texas. On the morning of January 4, 1911, a little after 10 o'clock, the young man who works for Silberberg Bros., Y. Gonzalez, presented a $500 bill to the teller next to me for change. He told the young man, Gonzalez, to present the bill to me, as he did not care to make the change. When he presented the bill to me I asked him what he wanted for it, and he said he wanted large bills for it. Then I asked him where he got the bill. He said it belonged to a Mexican who was over at Silberberg's buying a pocketbook. Then I told Gonzalez that some large bills had been stolen a few nights before, and that I was going to telephone down to the detectives' office about the bill. Gonzalez made the remark that he did not think defendant was the man wanted, because he looked like a railroad man. I told him that I would 'phone anyway and the bill would come up and see whether he was the man wanted. I took the bill in my hand and stepped back into the booth and 'phoned. The 'phone was answered by chief Jenkins. I told him that Silberberg Bros. had sent over a large bill to be changed and I knew they were looking for some large stolen bills, and I told him that he might come up and see if he was the man wanted. Chief Jenkins said he would come up and I went back and gave Gonzalez some $100 bills and some fifties. Then he asked me to change a $50 bill into small denominations. He said he started over to the store to tell me if the man left the store to get me a good description of him, as the police were coming up. I also asked him to keep the man interested there at the store if he could until the police come and get him. A few minutes later chief Jenkins came to the bank and looked at the $500 bill, and at the same time a man wearing a light overcoat went to Silberberg Bros. and took the station at the door. Later Jenkins informed me that defendant was the man they had been looking for."

Jenkins testified.

B. F. Jenkins, police chief, testified as follows:

"A few minutes after 10 o'clock on the morning of the 4th of January, I received a 'phone message from Mr. O'Brien at the Rio Grande Valley bank that there was a man there changing a $500 bill and that he wanted me to come and see it. There being no plain clothes men in the office, I hurriedly answered the call, picking up W. D. Louthan to go with me. I told him to go to the back door of Silberberg Bros. and look out for a man in there purchasing goods, while I went across to the bank to look at the $500 bill. I immediately went to Silberberg's and the defendant walked out and left the store. W. D. Louthan followed defendant to San Antonio street and when defendant started west I told Louthan to catch him. After leaving Silberberg's, defendant walked very rapidly to the corner of the Popular street, then turned east on San Antonio street. He walked a short distance east, then turned and started west. I almost intercepted him. It had been my intention to follow him, thinking he might be a 'chase' for some one else, but I decided that I had better make the arrest then, and I told Louthan to arrest him. Louthan grabbed him by the other hand he jerked again. He was still resisting arrest when I

"SINLESS" SINNER IS JAILED

Living With Two Girls Without Chaperone and Teaching "the New Life."

MOTHER OF ONE GIRL CONSENTS

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 7.—Evelyn Arthur See, self declared "apostle of a new life," in which all beings will be perfect, appeared in municipal court today to answer the charges of disorderly conduct following a police investigation of his apartments and his "absolute life" colony.

Two girls, one 19 and the other 17 years old, who admitted in court that they had for months been living with See unchaperoned, also appeared in court on the same charges.

Mona Reese, the elder of the girls, was destined, according to the plans of See, to be the mother of the first "nearly perfect" child, she herself being almost perfect according to the cult's teachings.

The other girl, Mildred Bridges, was striving to attain that state of purity, she declared, that would place her on a plane with the Reese girl.

Mrs. Felicia Reese, mother of Mona, is also interested in the colony, and spent much time teaching its principles.

She told the police she approved of her daughter's living with See, as all were "perfect" and hence sinless.

See in court refused the services of an attorney, saying he had the counsel of God and would purify the courtroom. The hearing was postponed until January 12, and See was refused bail.

LIGHTFOOT TAKES JAB AT COLQUITT

Rules That Governor Cannot Oust Two State Officials Till July.

Austin, Texas, Jan. 7.—It developed today that attorney general Lightfoot will open another controversy with governor-elect Colquitt by rendering an opinion either tonight or next week declaring E. A. Holmes, pension commissioner, entitled to hold office until July 30, although Colquitt declares he will try to oust both Holmes and tax commissioner Dashiell.

Lightfoot's opinion is already prepared. Lightfoot's ruling would prevent Robert P. Buford from succeeding Holmes, January 17, of his course, wants the change to take place.

AVIATOR LOST IN THE MOUNTAINS

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 7.—Didier Marquis, the French aviator who left here this morning in a biplane carrying newspapers to Pomona and San Bernardino, 60 miles from Los Angeles, is lost somewhere in the mountains.

He failed to reach Pomona and was seen steering his machine over the San Jose hills miles out of his course. Hundreds of persons in automobiles are searching for the aviator.

San Bernardino, Cal., Jan. 7.—A telephone message from Rochester, 12 miles west of here, says aviator Marquis landed there shortly after 9 o'clock to repair his biplane and replenish his oil supply.

LIGHT WIND FOR DALLAS FLYERS

Dallas, Texas, Jan. 7.—With the wind blowing at noon 12 miles an hour the international aviators starting in the big meet here were preparing to put up some startling new exhibits.

The aeroplanes race scheduled for Friday which was postponed because of the wrecking of Simons's machine, will be the chief feature this afternoon.

Stanner Young, of his course, tried to arrange for a race between an aeroplane and an automobile, but under the rules, auto racing is forbidden on the fair grounds track.

FIFTEEN MINERS HAVE CLOSE CALL

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 7.—Fifteen miners were badly hurt and 80 others narrowly escaped when an explosion occurred in the Big Hill Coal company mines, in Lee county this morning.

The men were blown from far down in the shaft clear above the surface, but so far as has been learned no one was killed.

SENATOR WHO CONFESSED RECEIVING BRIBE, RESIGNS

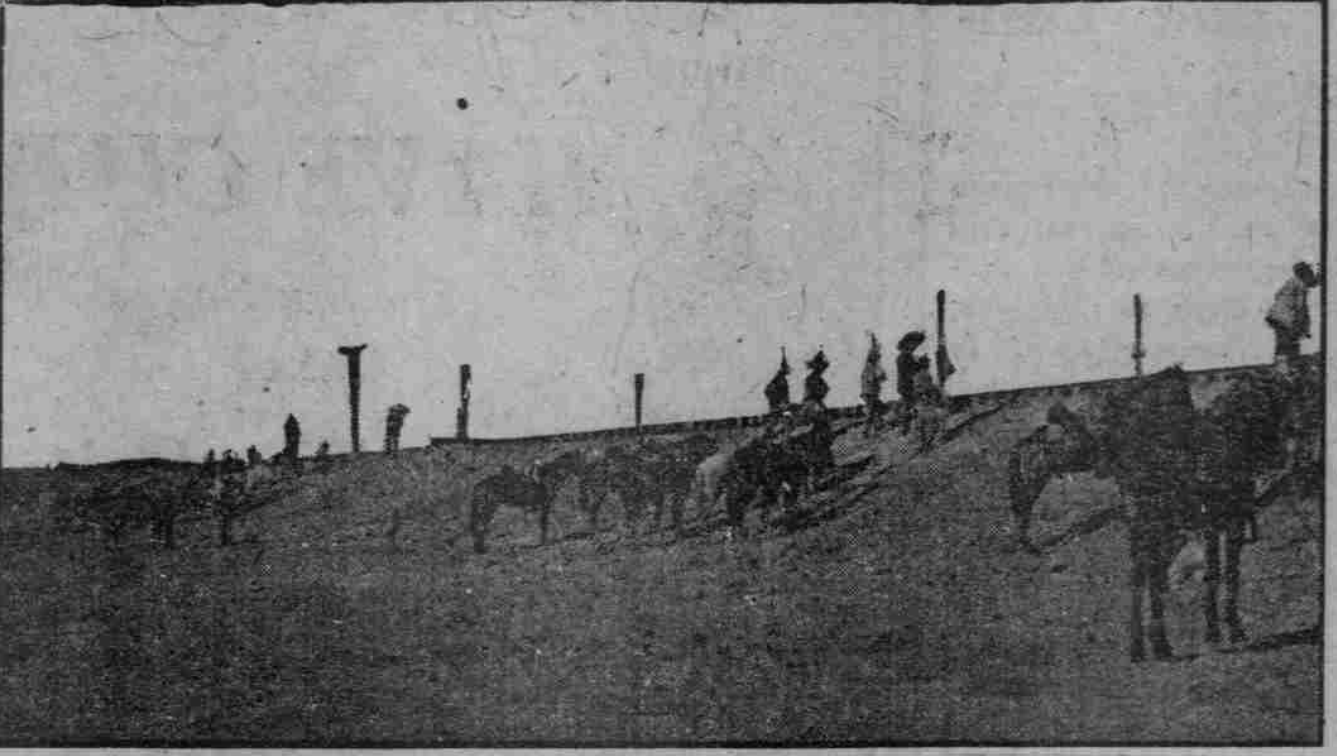

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 7.—Governor Deen this morning received the resignation of state senator D. W. Holtz, of Iuka, who confessed to receiving a bribe in the Lorimer senatorial election.

OFFICIALS INDICTED.

Denver, Colo., Jan. 7.—Secretary of state James B. Pearce, recently indicted on a misdemeanor charge, and county clerk Frank Kratke were indicted this morning by the grand jury on a charge of felony.

Secretary Pearce recently refused to permit representatives from state auditor Kenahan's office to examine the secretary's accounts and it is supposed the indictment grew out of this controversy.

"SINLESS" REBELS ON GUARD ALONG THE RAILROAD NEAR PEDERNALES

SHOOTS WIFE; THEN ENDS HIS OWN LIFE

Phoenix, Man Sees Another Man Leave His House,
Becomes Insanely
Jealous.

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 7.—George F. Myers, a miner, well known in Arizona, probably fatally shot his wife and then killed himself in the presence of their two young children, in the yard of their home today, while an unidentified man was running from the home.

The presence of the man aroused his jealousy to an insane point. The wife was running after the man and two girls brought her down. The children fell screaming across her body.

Myers then returned to the house. The police were called and opened the door to be met with a revolver.

Myers suddenly placed the gun to his mouth and fired, dying instantly.

Mrs. Myers died later without making a statement.

The name of the man who caused the shooting is said, by the police, to be Earl Riggs.

Police chief A. J. Moore led two officers into the house and Myers snapped his gun while the muzzle was pressed to Moore's stomach; then he jumped back and shot himself.

According to Jessie, the 7-year-old daughter of the couple, the quarrel over Riggs began two months ago at the Mascot mine and continued almost every day since.

SENATOR ELKINS LAID TO REST

Bailey, of Texas, and Andrews, of New Mexico,
Are Present.

Elkins, W. Va., Jan. 7.—Senator Stephen B. Elkins is today sleeping in the graveyard of this little mountain town. He was laid to rest this morning shortly after the funeral train reached here from Washington.

Representing the senate at the funeral were senators Scott, Bacon, Yeon, Bailey, Foster, Carter, Smith of Maryland and Root. The house delegation included representatives Hubbard, Hughes, Woodard, Gaines and Sturgis of West Virginia, Andrews of New Mexico, Rucker of Missouri, Alexander of New York, Longworth of Ohio, Calderhead of Kansas and Lamb of Virginia.

The burial was in Maplewood cemetery, where senator Elkins and former senator H. G. Davis, his father-in-law, laid out 30 years ago.

LONDON READY TO SIGN PEACE PACT

But the United States Will Have to Take the Initiative.

London, Eng., Jan. 7.—The project of reviving negotiations for a general Anglo-American arbitration treaty on the subject of which president Taft is sounding the senate committee of foreign relations, attracts little interest here.

Undoubtedly the British government would meet the United States half way. The general feeling, however, is that the senate may block the plan and English statesmen are not anxious for a repetition of the experience which was had with the Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

SIX TEXANS DEAD FROM POISON FLOUR

San Antonio, Texas, Jan. 7.—Six deaths have occurred and many residents of the village of Teller, Victoria county, are ill as a result of eating poisoned bread.

Several days ago the village grocer poured several sacks of flour into a sugar barrel. One of the first customers was Joe Brown, a negro. After the morning meal the entire Brown family became ill, two children dying that night.

Since then four other deaths have occurred in the village. An analysis showed that the flour contained arsenic.

How the poison got into the flour has not been determined.

BOY BANDITS ARE CAUGHT IN CAMP

Duluth, Minn., Jan. 7.—William Muzzard and Algot Johnson, the two boy bandits, who yesterday held up the clerk and night porter of a local hotel and then killed policeman Chesmore, who arrested them, are today lodged in the Duluth jail.

They were captured last night at a lumber camp 20 miles north. Johnson, who is only 15 years old, expresses regret at his part in the affair, and says he is glad he did not do any of the shooting.

Muzzard, who is 17 years old, is very sullen and refuses to talk. He is the one who did the shooting.

BAD WRECK ON A TEXAS RAILROAD

Waco, Tex., Jan. 7.—H. D. Reynolds, a Pullman conductor and Dr. King, of Dallas, were killed this morning when passenger trains No. 8 and No. 6 of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway, northbound, collided near Abbott, in Hill county.

The trains met in a heavy fog. A freight train had taken a siding at Abbott and the brakeman flagged passenger No. 8 which was just ahead of No. 6. When No. 6 stopped, No. 8 crashed into it from the rear.

The rear sleeper of the first train was cut in two. Several passengers were injured, but none fatally.

Relief trains, with physicians went to the scene of the wreck from Waco and Hillsboro. Tralumen on the engine of No. 6 jumped and saved their lives, and were but slightly injured.

Fog Cause of Wreck.

Hillsboro, Texas, Jan. 7.—The collision between the Katy flyer and No. 8 occurred at 5:30 this morning 20 yards from Abbott station. Train No. 8 was late and a flagman was sent to flag the flyer, but engineer Smith could not see the flagman's torch on account of the fog until too late. He jumped when he saw that the collision was inevitable and was badly injured. Fireman Roberts also jumped and was injured.

The rear pullman of No. 8 carried seven passengers and was completely demolished.

The dead: Kenneth A. King, of the State Medical college, Dallas; H. D. Reynolds, Pullman conductor.

The injured: G. D. Palmer, of Austin; J. R. Hornsberger, of Austin; G. T. Cotton, of Houston; J. F. Johnson, of San Antonio, a real estate dealer; C. Z. Magmon, of Dallas; Mrs. Chas. Ewyer, of Tulsa.

The engine of the flyer was badly wrecked; the traffic was not delayed.

ENGINEER AND FIREMAN KILLED IN COTTON BELT WRECK

Marshall, Tex., Jan. 7.—A report received here today tells of a passenger wreck on the Cotton Belt railroad between Big Sandy and Glimmer. The engineer and fireman were killed and the coaches are in a ditch.

ENGINEER KILLED IN A WRECK ON COTTON BELT

Glimmer, Tex., Jan. 7.—An engine of southbound Cotton Belt passenger No. 1 overturned at Suffolk, four miles south of here, this morning and engineer Higby was crushed to death. No others are reported killed or injured. Four coaches were derailed.

SANTA FE FREIGHT WRECK IN STREETS OF BAINESVILLE

Gainesville, Texas, Jan. 7.—A northbound Santa Fe freight train jumped the track on Main street today, due to a split switch. A number of cars containing merchandise and lumber were destroyed, and the track was torn up. The crew narrowly escaped.

TEXAS CO. GETS OIL NEAR ELECTRA

Pays Big Sum for Lease and Gusher Is Brought in at Once.

Wichita Falls, Jan. 7.—A big oil "gusher" was brought on at Waggoner, near Electra, 25 miles northwest of here today. The flow was struck 1800 feet down and gives a thousand barrels daily.

The Producers' company brought in the well.

The Texas company had just paid W. T. Waggoner $75,000 as part consideration for a lease on his lands.

PAYNE IS URGED FOR AUDITORSHIP

Friends of D. M. Payne are warmly urging him for the position of county auditor which is soon to be created by the commissioners and for which position Joe Escalada and his friends have been plugging. Petitions are now in circulation for signatures asking the commissioners to name Mr. Payne.

A. P. FIRE IN KANSAS CITY.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 7.—The office of the Associated Press in Kansas City, located in the Corn Belt bank building, took fire early this morning and the operators and editors were forced to leave the building, ending the night report from Kansas City in the middle of an item.

KILLS MOTHER.

Fort Worth, Tex., Jan. 7.—Mrs. J. E. Anderson, aged 59, was accidentally shot by her daughter, Beulah, Wednesday afternoon at her home near the city, and died this morning in the Medical College hospital. The girl thought the revolver was empty.

TROOPS ARE SENT OUT FROM PEINADO

GUERRERO ABANDONED
BY REBELS; PAGE 10.

Parral, Mexico, Jan. 7.—A sharp skirmish took place yesterday at a point between the villages of Peinado and San Isidro Las Cuevas, situated about 20 miles east of this city, between a small troop of rurales, who were on a reconnoitering tour of the village, and a band of rebels about 25 in number.

The rurales had scouted in the flat section all morning and were just about to ride their horses up the steep mountain section, when they were fired upon from above and one of the rurales was shot in the leg and his horse killed. The wounded man was dragged to cover by his companions.

Owing to the impracticable position occupied by the rurales, it was deemed advisable to retire for reinforcements to Peinado, which was done.

A detachment of troops was dispatched, but they had evidently fled, as no trace of them could be found when the scene was reached. However, it was decided to follow the trails through the mountains and engage the rebels if possible. Late advices report no sight of the rebels.

It is the opinion that the men who fired on the rurales are part of the troop of Guillermo Baca and Pedro T. Gomez, the rebel leaders, who formerly lived in this city.

A great many families in this and the surrounding section are shy on men folk, where formerly each had a fair quota. The men are in the rebel service.

RUMORED BREAK OF DIAZ AND TERRAZAS

Government's Demand for Several Thousand Volunteers Is Not Met.

Chihuahua, Mexico, Jan. 7.—If the rumors here in Chihuahua and from Mexico City are true it is probable that the breach that threatened the destruction of the Terrazas-Creel political domination of the state of Chihuahua some five years ago when president Diaz laid the basis for Gen. Terrazas's political career, is now being healed.

It was through Don Enrique Creel's diplomacy that a truce was arranged and Terrazas reinstated with the political good graces of the federal government. Representatives were made to president Diaz that as the Terrazas and their immediate family and dependents owned practically all of the state and employed 6000 men in their various enterprises, who were willing to give armed support to the government in case of need, the family was entitled to control the state government.

It was upon this basis that Gen. Terrazas was for 20 years permitted to name a governor of the state who has always been subservient to his will. But when Col. Ahumada was made governor of Chihuahua he notified the president that Terrazas's influence with the people was nil. This brought on friction between the president and the general, which was eventually settled through the good offices of Mr. Creel, and here it was the present trouble comes in.

The seriousness of the revolt has been kept from Diaz as much as possible. Phony reports of government victories in battles that were never fought have been published in official dispatches and published in the press. Governor Jose Maria Sanchez wrote to the president that the "situation was impossible" and he was removed.

"No," said "the big power." "It is not a revolution but merely a band of bold, bad bandits. We will kill them out with rat poison."

The representations made to Gen. Diaz have not materialized. He has asked the Terrazas interests to put in the field the 6000 men, loyal and true, for which he has been paying for these past 20 years by granting offices, land, etc., but no answer has been received.

But a few days ago a publisher has shouldered a Mauser. True, the Terrazas interests employ 6000 men, but they are all politically their enemies. But the president demands his pound of flesh and the Terrazas interests must furnish it or fall from the throne of political grace.

Diaz is angry and demands delivery of the goods he has paid for and the Terrazas interests cannot deliver. Diaz is an active man and may shortly bring

ATTEMPT TO KILL THE KING OF SPAIN

Malaga, Spain, Jan. 7.—What is believed by many to have been an attempt on the life of King Alfonso took place during his brief visit here Thursday. The facts became known today.

The king, accompanied by premier Canalejas, Gen. Aspar, minister of war, and Arlas Miranda, minister of marine, had arrived here en route for Melilla. At the railway station his majesty was welcomed by a great throng, which joyously followed the carriage in which the king was driven to the palace of the governor general.

Just as the door of the palace swung behind him, after he had turned and acknowledged the salutes of applause, an explosion in the crowd outside drowned the cheering.

Before the alarmed and stampeded mass fully realized just what had happened the gendarmes had closed in about the spot from which the report arose.

It was found that two persons were slightly injured, but no other damage was done.

The official account of the incident says it was unimportant; that a civilian dropped a "pistol" enclosed in a box. No further details are made public.

Yesterday the king and party proceeded to Melilla in the royal yacht.

American From Chihuahua
Says They Expect to Win.
Navarro Is Doomed.

WILL BE SHOT IF REBELS CATCH HIM

"Even members of the reigning family in Chihuahua are insympathetic with the revolutionists," declares an American who has arrived in El Paso after a residence of nearly a quarter of a century in the Mexican republic, the greater part of that time having been spent in Chihuahua.

"There is much sympathy for the revolutionists," he says. "Nearly 90 percent of the residents of Chihuahua are revolutionary sympathizers and some of these are of the Terrazas family which has ruled the state since 1890."

"The penitentiary is crowded with political prisoners. The hospitals are crowded with wounded soldiers and the hotel Francia has been converted into a hospital. Saloons which were formerly permitted to remain open until 1 o'clock in the morning are now forced to close at 6 o'clock in the evening. For 15 days they were closed altogether and the government seized what liquor was contained in the various places, sealing up rooms where it could be stored."

Revolutionists Hopeful.

"The revolutionists expect to win and when the peace commission was sent out by orders of president Diaz, though he later denied having authorized this move, the revolutionary leaders informed them that they could put no trust in the word of Diaz and they knew they would have to fight to the end, as they would be killed if they surrendered."

"I believe that Diaz is tottering; he is losing his grip and there is no man strong enough to take his place. I had been his intention to have Corra resign and appoint someone else before the revolution broke out, but now there is no one to take his place; none of the cabinet officers are popular enough."

Election Not Fair.

"The people are fighting because they think the taxes are too high and they do not get representation, and their votes count for naught. If there had been a correct count of the votes in the last election Madero would have received an immense majority in Chihuahua. In the whole state of Chihuahua, the rifles are picked up and a select few in Chihuahua and some elsewhere to govern the various districts. People want home men to rule their districts."

"Of all the deputies of this state there is but one who represents a district in which he lives, and this is in the district of Turbide, and the deputy lives in the city of Chihuahua, which is in the district."

Navarro Killed Prisoners.

"The revolutionists were not routed nor bottled up in the hills. Mal Paso was of no particular strategic advantage to the revolutionists and so they left there and Pedernales. At the last point, immediately after taking the town, Gen. Navarro sent out several men who were altogether harmless, and after the battle of Cerro Prieto he killed all his prisoners, as the Associated Press reported, and if the revolutionists ever capture him they will surely shoot him."

"The revolutionists now have 1000 or 1200 men armed and can call out that many more from the mines in Chihuahua when they secure arms for them. The purpose of burning the bridges on the Mexico North Western was to cut these arms through from New Mexico without molestation by the soldiers."

"The government assumed control of the North Western road and is responsible for the damage done to it."

Curtailed Work.

"A number of the Pearson employes are leaving Madero and returning to the United States because work has been curtailed there. Most of the mines west of Chihuahua are supplying their bullion by way of the west coast instead of through Chihuahua as formerly, because they do not want to run the risk of going through the twines."

"Business has fallen off at least 75 percent in the city of Chihuahua and many of the larger merchants are discharging a number of their employees because of the lack of business with the mining companies. The Santa Eulalia Mining company, however, is operating on as large a scale as ever."

"The retirement of Sanchez as governor of Chihuahua was not a result of the sending out of the peace commission, for he had long desired to retire from that office in order to devote his time to his mercantile business."

SMALL CYCLONE IS FELT IN BREWSTER

Rosilla, Brewster County, Texas, Jan. 7.—Word reached here yesterday of a terrific windstorm that passed over the Terlingua district, near here. It lifted the roofs off several houses and in one instance took everything out of the house except a heavy cook stove. No lives were lost.
